THE INVENTORS

Screaming magpie made the potter.

It was screeching to another.

"There are rumors - what a shock! -

Dandelions - entire flock !

will watch the world - from a height! -

'cause they are to make the flight!

Magpies shouted on the oak:

„What a nonsense! What a joke!”

Soon, magpies's common voice

made admiring and loud noise

because light dandelions clocks flew as kites in pinnate flocks.

Then the birds made noise - as ever -

"They are clever! Very clever!"
