

Jacek CUDNY

THE SPARKS

Summer is just born in June.

Holidays will be quite soon.

Stars are falling in the night.

There are also sparks – so bright! -

that are flying high and higher

but they are ... not from the fire.

Who makes patterns in the dark?

Who's the father of each spark that shines in the summer night?

This is little ... firefly.